10/15/1956

Bunk Bobbins was the winner of the 25-lap feature event in the Jalopy Class yesterday at the Mount Holly Speedway, marking the close of the auto racing season there until next March.

Caution was tossed to the winds as the boys in the club tried to add one more checkered flag to their credit before putting the stock cars to rest for the Winter. As a result, Hal Haviland, Bob Hunt and Carlton Lawrence received some dents on the jalopies but the cars were not kept from competing in the feature event.

Paul Bogen, Edgar Chamberlin and Joe Payton were the victors of previous qualifying events. Art Lincoln of White Horse won the Consolation with Carlton Lawrence and Chamberlin almost tied for second spot during the final three laps of the race.

A special match race was held for five laps with Bob Chamberlin of Yardville and Robbins competing clockwise on the speedway. Robbins won by half a car length.

Over the past two years Robbins has established a name for himself as a top driver of the class. Last year, he was awarded a gold trophy for second place on the club's point list, just missing the top title by six points.

An impressive list of drivers will be entered in the field today with such performers as Ed Chamberlin, Art Lincoln, John Kamrad, Paul Bogen, Ken Coulter, Harold Havilan, Joe Payton, Carlton Lawrence, Mel Ely, Al Briegel and Bob Hunt all ready for action.

Promoter, Club Arrange Plans For Race Events

Promoter Rocky Di Natale of the Mt. Holly Speedway and a committee representing the Central Jersey Stock Car Club are negotiating on plans to present action-packed programs for the race car fans.

Some dissension was evident as the spectators approached the track last week. Henceforth meetings are in progress to iron out a few wrinkles in the joint contract. A full house has been in evidence since the track waved the first green flag of the season last month and it is the desire of the committee, as a whole, to allow as many more cars and drivers to enter each of the events as is safely permitted.

Negotiations are expected to be completed by tomorrow night.

Bunk Robbins won the winning spot in his class for the money race and Carlton Lawrence was second with Lee MacBride third. Plenty of action was in store for the race car fans that filled the grandstands as Edgar Chamberlin was crowded into the fence coming off the fourth turn. Lucy, who is making her last appearance in the area this year, will try to drive a stock car through a hoop of fire, and at the same time run up a ramp and flip the car.

Duel At Mount Holly

Trentonian Bunky Robbins and Francis Steinmetz of Mount Holly, currently in a bitter duel for first place, will head a field of more than two dozen stock car racers tomorrow night at the Mount Holly Speedway starting at 8:30 p. m.

Steinmetz, last year's grand champion at the Route 206 raceway, won last week's 25-lap final after Shrimp Hewitt of Hightstown was forced out after leading for 19 laps.

Hewitt's racer became disabled when the hood flew up suddenly in the plucky driver's face.

Robbins, who always manages to finish near the top, still is in first place after coming in fifth last week behind Dave Hulse, Dave Harris, and Carlton Lawrence.

Robbins was followed by Ed Chamberlain in sixth place, Jack Taylor in seventh, and Ray Kelly in eighth.

Steinmetz And Robbins Resume Racing Rivalry

9/6/1957

It will be Francis Steinmetz of Mount Holly against Trenton's Bunky Robbins tomorrow night at the Mount Holly Speedway when the two point leaders go all out to snare the 1957 honors at the Rt. 206 speedway.

With only a few meets left this season, Steinmetz, last year's champion, will attempt to repeat his former victories. But Robbins has promised his followers that he won't be satisfied with any position behind Steinmetz.

Promoter Rocky DiNatale also added that a new lighting plant was installed at the asphalt oval during the past week. "The new system will supplement the existing plant to bring even better visibility to spectators," DiNatale said.

Behind the two leading racers, the point field is divided among Carlton Lawrence of Philadelphia, Ed Chamberlain of Hamilton Square, Ed Hauseman of Hightstown and Bob Van Sciver of Trenton.

Robbins, Steinmetz

In Keen Point Duel

9/13/1957

Only eight points separate Trenton's Bunky Robbins and Mount Holly's Francis Steinmetz for first place standings at the Mount Holly Speedway.

Steinmetz, last year's grand champion, was thwarted in his attempt to take over the top slot last week when the racing card was postponed due to rain.

Robbins, in first place throughout most of the season, told his followers that Steinmetz's reputation doesn't scare him at all.

The two leaders, however, are being pressed in the racing battle by Carlton Lawrence in third place and Ed Champberlain in the fourth spot.

Tomorrow night's card is scheduled to start at 8:30 o'clock.

Promoter Rocky DiNatale again pointed out that the asphalt track's new lighting system will be put into service. The system was installed two weeks ago, but last week's rain prevented racing followers to see the plant in operation.

Several new drivers, out of action so far this year, are expected to make their reappearance this week at the Route 206 speedway, DiNatale added.

Hausman, Stout Win Mount Holly Features

9/16/1957

Ed Hausman and Charlie Stout shared top honors in the weekly racing program at the Mount Holly Speedway on Saturday night. Hausman won the 25-lap feature for modified cars and Stout was the victor in the stock car class.

Hausman also was one of five heat winners on Saturday. Others who captured preliminary races included Shrimp Hewitt, Ed Chamberlain and Bill Robbins, who won two heats.

'Powder Puff Derby'

9/19/1957

In response to numerous requests, a "Powder Puff Derby" will be held at the Mount Holly Speedway Saturday night at 8:30 as a special feature plus all the regular events of the weekly race. Promoter Rocky Di Natale will present a trophy to the winner of the girls' race.

During a practice run for the girls at the end of last week's race, Bertie Lawrence spun out after three laps and Peggy Chamberlin lost a front wheel on the second turn. No one was hurt.

Robbins currently is holding top slot despite a fifth place finish last week. His closest rival, Francis Steinmetz, was forced out of the race when he hit the fence on the second turn following a collision with Augie Moschera.

The final was won by Ed Hausman, followed by Dave Harris, and Jack Stackhouse in third place.

Promoter Rocky DiNatale has a special trophy to be presented to the winner of the women's race.

Girls listed to race include Bertie Lawrence, Peggy Chamberlian, Rhac Lincoln, Wilma Black, Betty Stout, Helen Reed, Jean Kerlin, Lillian Sikkinger and Mrs. Robbins.

10/11/1957

MOUNT HOLLY — Racing at the Mount Holly Speedway will resume Sunday afternoon, promoter Rocky DiNatale announced today.

Previously held Saturday nights, the stock car races for the remainder of the year will start at 2 p. m. Sundays because of the increasing cold weather, he explained.

Last week's 25-lap final was won by Dave Hulse. The winner was followed by Dave Darris and Shrimp Hewitt, who engaged in a bumper-to-bumper battle throughout the night.

The special women's "Powder Puff Derby" was won by Becky Gliven of Lakewood. She was followed by Lillian Sikinger of Trenton and Dee Robbins of Hightstown.

Racing Sunday At Mount Holly If Weather OK

11/1/1957

MOUNT HOLLY — Stock car racing resumes on the Mount Holly Speedway Sunday at 2:30 p. m. after a two-week cancellation caused by inclement weather, it was announced by Promoter Rocky DiNatale.

In addition to the usual racing card, a member of the Lucky Lucy women troupe will put on an auto act prior to the 25-lap feature race.

Included in the act will be an "auto flip," almost exclusively a man's car driving feat.

DiNatale added that the races and show will go on only if the temperature stays above the 55-degree mark.

The 25-lap final will see Trenton's Bunky Robbins and Hightstown's Francis Steinmetz continue their neck-and-neck fight for the 1957 point championship.

Steinmetz, the 1956 winner, has been plagued with bad luck in recent race appearances. Robbins, meanwhile, has piled up points with steady driving.

Others scheduled to race include Joseph Sensi, Wilbur Stout, Dave Harris, Dave Hulse, Shrimp Hewitt, Charlie Cregar, Carlton Lawrence, Edgar Chamberlain and Charlie Stout.

The $\frac{1}{8}$ mile asphalt track is located 17 miles south of Trenton on Route 206.

To date 30 entries have been received for the track with still more expected before racing time.

In addition to Robbins, Francis Steinmetz of Mount Holly and Carlton Lawrence of Trenton will receive trophies.

DiNatale added that this year's larger purses will attract better drivers.

Steinmetz Wins At Mount Holly

7/6/1959 ———

MOUNT HOLLY — Friday night's Mount Holly Speedway feature stock car race was won by Trenton's Fred Steinmetz who roared home first and walked off with a healthy portion of the record purse offered by promoter Bill Agin.

B u n k y Robbins, defending track champion and winner in the opening night feature race at the Holly oval, finished second despite the handicap of having to drive a strange car. Bunky's regular mount was put out of service earlier in the week when the engine blew up during competition at another speedway.

Third in the stock car dash went to Trenton's Jim Shelton who led the race for several laps before being out-manuevered by the crafty Steinmetz and the hard-driving veteran from Robbinsville.

The win was also Steinmetz' debut at the Mount Holly oval just 15 miles south of Trenton. However, he is no stranger to the quarter-mile asphalt-topped speedway, having competed here in previous seasons.

Promoter Agin also revealed during the evening's program that next week there will be midget car racing, as well as stock car competition, on the track, located on the Juliustown Road just off Route 206. The midget cars, about 30 strong, are from the Eastern All-Ford Midget Club of Wilmington, Del., and includes cars and drivers from all over the eastern states.

Midgets Race Mount Holly Oval Tonight

7/10/1959

MOUNT HOLLY, — The Mount Holly Speedway's weekly stock car racing program will be accompanied by a special midget auto racing slate tonight beginning at 8:30 o'clock, promoter Bill Agin announced.

Approximately 30 of the mighty midget cars and drivers, operating under the sanction of the Eastern All-Ford Midget Club, will be on hand for their own separately run racing program. The stock car schedule includes a special novice class for beginning drivers, as well as the regular open class competition for sportsman and modified equipment.

Last Friday night's all-stock car program feature race went to Trenton's Fran Steinmetz behind the wheel of his all-white stocker No. 41.

Rain Thwarts Mount Holly Racing Slate

7/13/1959

MOUNT HOLLY — Since the rains forced postponement of last Friday night's racing at the Mount Holly Speedway, Robbinsville's Bunky Robbins, defending track champion, will have to wait till this Friday at 8:30 p. m. to debut his re-built stock racing car at the oval. The track is located on the Juliustown Road about a mile east of its intersection with Route 206, approximately 15 miles South of Trenton.

Put out of action two weeks ago when his engine blew during competition at another track, the veteran chauffeur was ready and willing to go to the post last Friday night with a new "T-Bird" engine under the bonnet of his slick modified machine, but the weather man just didn't cooperate with Bunky, the rest of the drivers, and promoter Bill Agin's plans for the night.

This Friday night, weather permitting, of course, the racing will resume with Robbins putting his new powerplant and old skills against the artistry of local pilots the likes of Fran Steinmetz of Mount Holly, winner of the feature race two Fridays ago; Ed Stout, leadfoot from Hightstown, and Dave House who hails from Toms River.

At least one of Trenton's famous brother racing team of Frank and Vince Cannizzaro, the Flying Bakers, will be on hand for the Holly competition which this week is restricted to the sportsman-modified stock car racing in open competition. Vince is sure to be on hand with his own T-Bird powered mount while Frank hopes to have a machine ready by race time.

Last week's special combination race program of the Eastern All-Ford Midget Club and the Mount Holly Speedway stock car racing show will probably be re-slated for the near future. The Midgets were slated to run as a special attraction.

Stives Tabs Mount Holly Race Win

7/19/1959

MOUNT HOLLY — Don Stives of Hightstown piloted his shiny red No. 3 flathead Ford to victory in the feature race at the Mount Holly Speedway Friday night. Stives outlasted previous winner Dave Hulse of Point Pleasant and defending track champion Bunky Robbins of Robbinsville, runner-up and third place finisher, respectively. The speedway operates every Friday night, weather permitting.

Stives made it his most successful night so far at the one-third mile asphalt-topped oval, also taking down the honors in the first heat of the night. His flathead made a surprising showing against the usually faster "overhead" equipment of Robbins and Hulse.

Fourth spot in the feature 25-lap event went to Jim Shelton. Al Whitehouse grabbed the fifth place overall finish and gained credit for first place in the novice class with his sparkling driving display. Whitehouse, a resident of Yardville, was behind the wheel of the new blue and white car.

Sixth place went to Bordentown's hot runner George Kerling who grabbed the honors in the third heat. Seventh was Bobby Poinsett of Juliustown.

The most sensational smash-up of the evening occurred in the consolation race when Lambert Parks of Riverside skidded and crashed into the third turn wall while in pursuit of Hulse, eventual winner of the heat but "running for the win" in the consolation. Parks was uninjured in the crash but his handsome Chevy-powered car was put out of action.

Tonight At Mount Holly

MOUNT HOLLY — A big crowd of drivers is again expected to fill the pit areas of the Mount Holly Speedway tonight as action resumes on the third of a mile banked asphalt oval for the fifth race card of the season.

The rapidly growing popularity of the neat little oval tucked away in the woods along the Juliustown Road just off Route 206 is indicated by the banner crowds of drivers and spectators who are developing the "Mounty Holly habit" of attending the every-Friday-night racing cards.

Last week another record purse was posted by promoter Bill Agin. And the boys really battled it out for the lion's share of the take.

Fran Steinmetz, one of the Delaware Valley area's top chauffeurs, was the lad who walked off with the feature race first prize, after dodging two thrilling crack-ups, one of which completely demolished the No. 8 of Lambert Parks of Riverside.

Parks, who was involved in another smash only the week before, this time went through the guard rail, tearing out the timbers and sustaining a possible fracture of an arm in the process.

Paul Goodson of Trenton grabbed off the runner-up prize in the feature race with Bunky Robbins of Robbinsville finishing third.

Augie Mushura of New Egypt took first place in the consolation race while Zeke Parkenson of Columbus, Dave Hulse of Point Pleasant and Goodson taking firsts in the three heats.

A new Mount Holly speedway attraction, the Novice class feature race for beginners, was won by Bob Chamberlain of New
